

Heidelberg vs. Hellas in Cup

The draw for round two of the Philips Cup features a local creek derby between Heidelberg United and Hellas that will pack Middle Park to capacity and provide the large crowd with a scintillating contest.

In Sydney APIA looks incapable of stopping Sydney City's advancement to the next round and a few miles away Blacktown gets the chance to further enhance its rapidly improving reputation when it clashes with St George.

Newcastle's defenders Paul Reaney, Arno Bertogna, Roy Drinkwater and Col Curran will have to be at their best to contain Marconi's famed striking trio, Eddie Krncevic, Mark Jankovics and Peter Sharpe.

Victorian State League clubs Makedonia and Ajax have hard tasks to knock off their more fancied PSL opponents, Canberra and Adelaide City.

Makedonia's striking trio of Robert Cullen, George McMillan and Gary Ward will severely test Canberra's defence and an upset is on the cards here.

Ajax cannot be taken lightly as JUST found out in round one.

The full draw is:

St George v Blacktown, Sunday 6 July, Barton Stadium, 3 pm.

APIA Leichhardt v Sydney City, Sunday 6 July, Lambert Park, 2 pm.

Adelaide City v Green Gully, Sunday 6 July, Olympic Sports Field.

Beograd v Delmatinac, Wednesday 2 July, Hindmarsh Stadium, 7.30 pm.

Hellas v Heidelberg, Sunday 6 July, Middle Park, 3 pm.

Canberra v Makedonia, Sunday 6 July, Bruce Stadium, 3 pm.

Newcastle v Marconi, Saturday 5 July, International Sports Centre, 2.30 pm.

Mt Gravatt v Brisbane Lions, Sunday 6 July, Perry Park, 3 pm.

Germans take iron grip on Europe

A friendly hug by Holland's Ruud Krol is effective in keeping West German striker Horst Hrubesch away from the ball in their European championship match in Naples. West Germany won 3-2.

West Germany favored for the title, England eliminated, Belgium the big surprise, Italy fighting to get into the final ... that's the position after two rounds of the European championships in Rome.

After having beaten Czechoslovakia 1-0 and Holland 3-2, West Germany still is undefeated since manager Jupp Derwall took over from Helmut Schoen after the 1978 World Cup finals.

West Germany needs only to overcome Greece this morning (Wednesday) to qualify for the final next Monday morning, our time.

Italy and Belgium meet this morning for the other place in the final. See page 4 for all details.

I WANT GUTS SAYS RUDI

● Gutendorf: All that matters is the World Cup

National coach Rudi Gutendorf last week explained why he continually changes his team.

"I am criticised for this, but there is a good reason," he said.

"Fifty per cent of our players are unpredictable.

"One day, the player does so well that he convinces me he is the best man for the job.

"Then, he plays absolute rubbish and I have my doubts.

"In the long term it matters only which players I can trust.

"The most important thing is to find out which players will do the job in 10 months' time when the World Cup series start.

What I expect from my players is:

- physical and mental courage and good nerves;
- he must be a big personality;
- he must have the guts to attack head-on, even from a weak position."

"I have found that not all the players I have chosen are able to do this."

"There has been a question mark over Kevin Mullen and Paul Degney, for example. They have tended to hesitate."

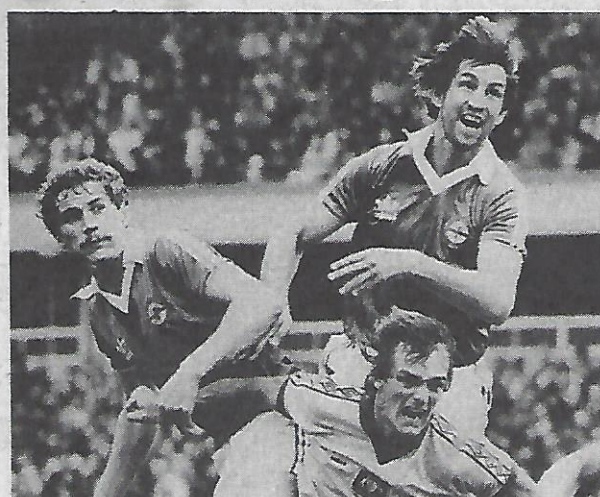

Three players who certainly filled all of Gutendorf's requirements in Australia's 1-1 draw with Northern Ireland are Murray Barnes, Jim Tansey and Jim Muir.

Barnes was magnificent in his first international game at centre back.

And big Muir was the epitome of the unflinching warrior — blood streaming from his face, yet still reigning supreme in the air.

Gutendorf revealed that a West German Bundesliga club had made an offer for his services.

— LAURIE SCHWAB

Crook in, Barnes out

Martyn Crook of West Adelaide will get his chance in goal in Australia's third and final international against Northern Ireland at Hindmarsh Stadium tonight (Wednesday).

Greg Woodhouse played in the first game, won 2-1 by Northern Ireland in Sydney, and Yakka Banovic of Heidelberg kept goal in the 1-1 draw in Melbourne on Sunday.

Coach Rudi Gutendorf said he was using the series to establish which of the three goalkeepers will be his No. 1 choice. The others will be Nos. 2 and 3.

Strikers John Kosmina and John Nyskohus and reserve goalkeeper Peter Marshall have been called into the squad for tonight's game.

Murray Barnes, star of the game in Melbourne, will not play as he had to return home to Sydney for exams.

After the first two games, Northern Ireland leads with one win and a draw and three goals to two. The best Australia can do is to win the series on goals by beating Northern Ireland by at least two.

However, without Barnes, with more players being tried out and in light of the tremendous pressure applied by Northern Ireland in the second half last Sunday, it's a tall order.

Roll up, roll up, you too can play for Australia

After Australia's World Cup qualifying game against Israel in Sydney in 1969, one highly-rated ASF official said to another: "Let's go to England, buy a new team and build for 1974."

Those two still are operating in top soccer in this country.

At the end of 1971 I submitted a five-page document to the ASF saying that players should not be used in the Australian team if they were not Australian-born or naturalised. This became hard and fast policy throughout 1972 and 1973 and of course 1974 in the World Cup finals.

Yet in 1975 the policy was discarded. A fellow called Willie McGroarty made an appearance for Australia in our 2-2 draw with Legia Warsaw in Sydney. McGroarty, a Scot, had been in Australia only a short while and, in fact, returned home not long after that game.

Then we had Agenor Muniz and Rudi Gnani playing in what were classed full international matches against the USSR in late 1975. When the Socceroos were in Fiji for their World Cup qualifying matches against Taiwan in 1977, it was discovered at the last minute that Jim Tansey was not naturalised. He had to be flown from Ba to the Australian High Commission in Suva to take his citizenship oath before he could don the green and gold.

At the start of 1979, we were all set to go to Auckland for a full international against New Zealand with a squad of players including many who were "visitors" from overseas.

But the NZFA objected and it was agreed that each team could have only one unnaturalised player.

Then came the Centenary match against England B at the SCG.

I leave it to the readers to draw their own conclusions. Suffice to say that the Australian team that took the field that night included three unnaturalised players.

Let's go back a little. Remember when Roberto Echeverria and Stuart Baxter were in the national squad? Everyone knew Baxter did not intend to stay in this country. He said as much in newspaper interviews.

And, sure enough, he did leave South Melbourne Hellas and go back home.

Similarly, Echeverria left Brisbane City and returned to Argentina while his name was still in the programme for a big game by the Socceroos.

Incidentally, the programme said Echeverria was a "highly effective contributor to the team's success..." whereas he was playing not in the PSL team but in Brisbane City's second string side!

Can someone please answer this question: Has it become a joke to play for Australia?

In 1972 I dearly wanted Doug Utjesenovic and Branko Buljevic to join the Socceroo squad, for they were among the best in the country. They did eventually, but not until they had received their citizenship papers.

Today it seems you can fly in from England, Scotland or wherever, and put on a green and gold shirt the very next day.

I wonder whether anyone at the ASF knows what a full international match is, exactly. I'm sure that England, Scotland, Northern Ireland or other European nations never ever have used a non-citizen in their national teams.

If FIFA were to bother checking up on the records, it would have to strike off many of the matches Australia claims to have been full internationals.

Before the 1980 Scottish Cup final, leading players from past Cup finals between Celtic and Rangers were presented to the 70,000 crowd at Hampden in a delightful, colorful ceremony.

Each of these greats received a standing ovation as he was introduced to the fans and from well-informed reports, Dixie Deans was given the loudest applause.

After 100 years of Australian soccer, we are unable to match such glamour, such a show of tradition.

To the centenary match against England, we invited Rugby League's Mike Stevenson and television's Michael Parkinson, but not the great Socceroos of the past.

Sure there was a private reunion, organised by Johnny Warren, but nothing official by the ASF.

Yes folks, the ASF has done it again — or rather, the ASF hasn't done it again.

A few days before the big match I read in the papers that the competing players were to receive specially-struck centenary medals. Commendable, but wouldn't it have been nice to give such medals also to the players who have brought us to this stage of our development?

Wouldn't it be nice to have presented fellows like Harry Williams, Billy Vojtek, John Perin, Manfred Schaefer, Ron Corry, Atilla Abonyi, Ray Baartz, Ray Richards and Stan Ackley to the crowd before the match? All the Socceroos of the past should have been invited by the ASF to be there — Alan Marnoch, John Watkins, Frank Micic, Jack Reilly, Peter Ollerton...

In the U.S. they would have shown Jimmy Mackay's famous World Cup goal on a huge TV screen.

The players are proud of their achievements. They would have felt honored had the ASF acknowledged those achievements.

At least we can thank the writer of the Centenary match programme. He did make reference to that 1974 team which achieved some small measure of success...

I'm pleased the ASF has come up with a Centenary logo at long last. I'm pleased to note it's a little different to the one created by "Soccer Action" some weeks ago. Congratulations, ASF, on your creativity.

In Brisbane last week I noticed a brilliant young football talent — a boy by the name of Confessore. He has technique, speed, acceleration, the lot. I expect big things from him.

Blacktown's 5-1 thrashing of Marconi must rate as the upset result of the PSL since the inception of the league.

Even though experienced defenders Harris and Turnbull weren't in the team, Blacktown managed to beat what was almost the national side.

Congratulations, Mick Jones, congratulations Demons.

The discovery of Murray Barnes as a magnificent centre back has added further to the armoury of the Gutendorf Socceroos who look more and more likely to qualify for the 1982 World Cup finals in Spain.

Gutendorf now has a combination which can be varied with success depending on the opponent.

Against accomplished teams like Northern Ireland, England or Chile it is prudent to use two centre backs (Barnes and Muir) and a sweeper (Prskalo).

Against weaker teams, Gutendorf can revert to only two central defenders in order to bring in a third midfielder — Ken Boden for example.

The forward trio he used in the 1-1 draw with Ireland in Melbourne — Gary Cole, Eddie Krncevic and Peter Sharne — appears ideal and Gutendorf should allow them to continue playing in order to knit together into an effective unit.

All three have speed and power and the way Gutendorf wants them to. How often was Krncevic seen rising like a Boeing to head the ball out of defence?

Gutendorf criticises Cole for being clumsy but Cole must be in this team all the time. Analyse Australia's effective attacks last Sunday and you'll find Cole was at the heart of every one of them. What's more he has the strength and courage to bore into the most perilous situations and of course his shooting power is undoubted. He also has the patience to wait for gaps and the explosiveness to exploit them.

All he needs is the right type of service from midfield. Passes should be delivered to make the most of Cole's speed, and also the speed of Sharne. Krncevic on the other hand has energy and heading ability as his greatest assets. He loves to work, so let him battle, let him run, let him try to win the ball in attack and lay it off to Cole and Sharne, and let him be there for high balls.

This forward line can carry us to Spain, I'm sure it will be well supported by the midfield duo of Jimmy Rooney and Tony Henderson, by the overlapping full coming through the middle.

Barnes, back in the national team after a year's absence, and left back Jim Tansey, were the stars of the Australian defence which was pinned back by the Irish in a desperate second half.

Ivo Prskalo also was brilliant in covering. He was particularly impressive in hanging off opponents, jockeying in crucial situations instead of tackling, which would have been suicidal. Jim Muir was majestic in the air and uncompromising on the ground, and John Yzendoorn on the right was the most constructive of the back five, sending some excellent balls forward.

Yakka Banovic earned praise for his fine performance in goal from everyone including Irish manager Billy Bingham. He appears the most logical choice for the No. 1 goalkeeping position, just ahead of Greg Woodhouse and Martyn Crook.

The match starts with Cole looking very sharp in attack. He gets himself involved in everything. Jim Muir is marking Billy Hamilton and Murray Barnes is looking after Gerry Armstrong, while Jim Tansey has the difficult job of holding skilful Noel Brotherston.

Tony Henderson has the slowest start. He gets himself tangled up because he tries to carry the ball in midfield, rather than deliver the quick pass forward.

Jimmy Rooney shows

play should be all about when he spears a through ball between John McClelland and John O'Neill, for Sharne to run onto but it's a bit too far away, and Sharne just fails to squeeze through. This is the type of ball that must be played not only to Sharne but also to Cole.

At the other end Armstrong gets away in a break. Ivo Prskalo darts across field to intercept him and Armstrong slows, waiting for Prskalo to commit himself with a tackle. Prskalo's too shrewd for that. He stands off and jockeys, waiting for support, and Australia gets out of a dangerous situation.

In the 20th, minute John Yzendoorn is about to take a throw-in on the right. But Barnes comes running to him from defence, calling to Yzendoorn to leave the ball.

Yzendoorn does so and Barnes, the modern Socceroos' answer to Ray Richards, steps back to take a Richards-style long throw.

This is a move well-rehearsed by the Socceroos.

The idea, just as with corners, is for one of the tall strikers to run towards the ball and back-head it into the goal mouth. This very play produced a goal against the New York Cosmos and almost another against England.

Krncevic raises high to meet Barnes' throw and despite pressure from Chris Nicholl and John O'Neill, he connects with his head and flicks the ball behind him. Peter Sharne hooks it square past Jim Platt for the opening goal. 1-0.

A minute later Sharne lays off for a powerful shot by Cole, but Platt stops it confidentially.

The Socceroos are in full hop. They're using the ball, outplaying the Irish, and tackling with gusto — so much so that Krncevic incurs the ire of David McCreery and referee Stewart Mellings.

Coach Rudi Gutendorf smells blood and goes for the kill. With a strong wind behind them, they should take the quickest path to goal, so he yells at goalkeeper Yakka Banovic to kick in long and hard.

But Armstrong threatens again, latching onto the ball all alone 15 metres out. Where's Barnes? No need to ask. There he is, storming in full steam to snatch the ball from Armstrong before he can do anything with it.

The Irish maintain a period of pressure with Billy Hamilton shooting into the middle where Armstrong hooks it over the top.

In the 31st, minute Australia has its luckiest let-off. Banovic fails to hold a difficult high ball, and it falls behind him, heading for the net. Luckily Jim Tansey is there to head off the time.

But Australia counters with the finest move of the match. It starts with Cole running on the right. He could have kept going but he slips it inside to Henderson who quickly relays it into the path of Sharne, who's in the clear on the left, with the defence beaten. Sharne has the space to continue running but he shoots a little too early and, with Platt beaten, watches in dismay as the ball rolls past the far post.

Henderson again pays for holding the ball too long when Brotherston brings him down with a crunching tackle but at the end Barnes reciprocates by stopping Armstrong with a foul that earns him the yellow card.

And then Tansey has to come to Australia's rescue with a brilliant tackle on Hamilton inside the penalty area as Hamilton is about to shoot.

But it's Australia that is the more dangerous team in this half.

A dashing break by the Socceroos sees Sharne and Henderson combine in the middle, for Henderson to burst clear of the Irish

SIX EXPERTS, SIX TEAMS

As national coach Rudi Gutendorf continues to experiment with the Socceroos, looking for the best possible combination for the World Cup matches next year, "Soccer Action" staff have found out just how difficult it is to come up with the "right" eleven.

Six of us worked out what we think would be the best team. Each one is different. Here they are, with a brief explanation for each:

CRAIG MacKENZIE

I have worked from the defence up and I believe both full backs have brilliant recovery and the drive to go forward in support of their forwards.

John Yzendoorn would not "cheat" as a sweeper, he would sweep up right across his defence and Steve Kokoska's pace, recovery and off-the-ball marking stamp him as our best stopper.

Tony Henderson can lay off the defence with Ken Boden pushing forward when we are in possession. The main midfield marker is Murray Barnes.

Eddie Krncevic can act as target man for Gary Cole and Peter Sharne to work off.

BANNON	YZENDOORN	BANOVIC	KOKOSKA	DAVIDSON
BARNES	HENDERSON	BODEN	SHARNE
COLE	KRNCVIC

Jim Tansey heads off Australia's line after goalkeeper Yakkla Murray Barnes, Eddie Krncevic, Gary Cole and John Yzendoorn. action as his team mate Gerry Armstrong, partly obscured.

BILLY VOJTEK

I favor an aggressive, attacking combination with Ken Boden operating behind three forwards, and setting up chances for them.

Speed is important, but at the same time, I believe we need experience to get us through the World Cup programme. Hence, I stick with old heads like Ivo Prskalo, Jim Tansey and Jimmy Rooney.

My team is:

PERRY	PRSKALO	HENDERSON	TANSEY
BODEN	BARNES	ROONEY
JANKOVICS	COLE	SHARNE

TOM ANDERSON

Jimmy Rooney must be in the Australian team. Against Northern Ireland in Sydney, the team did not start functioning properly until he came on.

I also stick with Jim Muir at centre back, despite all the criticism against him. I think he has done well.

Eddie Krncevic has a few personal problems, and we'll have to wait until he gets his act together again.

My team is:

YZENDOORN	WOODHOUSE
BARNES	MUIR	PRSKALO	TANSEY
SHARNE	HENDERSON	ROONEY
	COLE	BODEN

LAURIE SCHWAB

I've put the emphasis on speed and attack. I feel the talent we have at our disposal is suited best to an attacking game.

There also is an emphasis on youth, for we must plan for the future. Hence, Alan Davidson, 19, is at left back and the slower Jim Tansey takes the libero role.

My "best eleven":

MULLEN	BARNES	TANSEY	DAVIDSON
HENDERSON	YZENDOORN	ROONEY
COLE	KRNCVIC	SHARNE

PETER SCOTT

In the midfield, I would use Theo Selemidis against tough, direct teams, and Ken Boden against ball-playing teams.

My selection of Steve O'Connor in defence is the other talking point. He's fast, strong, fearless, and I believe he could play at left back. Alternatively, he could be used as a marker against teams that play twin strikers.

My team, with Boden the alternative midfielder, is:

PERRY	PRSKALO	HENDERSON	S. O'CONNOR
J. NYSKOHUS	BARNES	SELEMIDIS
JANKOVICS	COLE	SHARNE

RALE RASIC

The midfield combination is the most difficult. There really are no automatic first choices who stand taller than other midfielders in Australia.

In the trio I have chosen, Murray Barnes represents the defensive strong man and Mark Jankovics and Joe Picioane provide the flair, the real class, the imagination to service the front runners in the right way.

In defence, Tony Henderson should take over the duties of sweeper and I would use David Jones as the other centre back, just ahead of Bobby Russell.

Alan Davidson is an absolutely brilliant talent, so I have included him at left back. Paul Degney and Arno Bertogna were other players I considered — Degney as left back and Bertogna in midfield.

My team, which has the future in mind, is:

PERRY	HENDERSON	JONES	DAVIDSON
JANKOVICS	BARNES	PICIOANE
COLE	KRNCVIC	SHARNE

AUSTRALIA 1 (Sharne) NORTHERN IRELAND 2 (N. Nicholl, M. O'Neill) at Sydney Cricket Ground, crowd about 12,000.

AUSTRALIA: Woodhouse 6 — Perry 7, Prskalo 7, Muir 9, Tansey 8 (sub Mullen 75th) — Yzendoorn 8, Henderson 8, Jankovics 7 (sub Rooney 60th), Selemidis 6 (Sub Boden 14th, 7) — Cole 7 (sub Krncevic half time 7), Sharne 8.

NORTHERN IRELAND: Platt 8 — J. Nicholl 8, C. Nicholl 8, J. O'Neill 8, McClelland 7 — Brotherton 9, M. O'Neill 8, Finney 6, Cassidy 6 — Armstrong 7, Billy Hamilton 7.

Australia showed its ability to turn on attacking football in the second half just as it had done in the game against England B.

Peter Sharne revelled in being allowed to play for the full 90 minutes and in two consecutive games he has shone against top class opponents in Trevor Cherry of Leeds United and Jimmy Nicholl of Manchester United.

defence which has moved up almost to the half line. But as Henderson breaks, Cole is caught offside and a promising move breaks down.

Northern Ireland replies with a dashing run by Martin O'Neill who slips the ball wide to Brotherton. His cross goes to Hamilton but the shot is over the bar, with Barnes storming in desperately, fearing the worst.

Tansey, Barnes, Prskalo and Cole have been impressive for Australia during this first half. The Irish have been a little disappointing, but I liked Armstrong, Chris Nicholl and at times, Hamilton.

It quickly becomes obvious that Australia is more intent on defending its lead against the wind than trying to add to it.

John Yzendoorn is the only one of the five defenders who sometimes ventures forward. Tony Henderson is back most of the time, even Eddie Krncevic in the rearguard, rising high for headed clearance. With the midfield to themselves, Martin O'Neill, Tom Cassidy and the defenders start pushing relentlessly.

This is to be the pattern throughout the second half.

The Australian forwards rarely get the ball, except if they come back into defence.

Yet for all their pressure, the Irish do not have many shots that are on target, due mainly to the close attention of the Australian defenders.

Chris Nicholl, for example, manages only to blast high over the bar after latching onto a short clearing header from Barnes seven minutes after half time.

The one attempt that is on target is a header by Hamilton from a perfect cross by Jim Nicholl but Banovic gets behind it well.

Chance for City, Blacktown; Lujic a threat to Rasic

SPOTLIGHT ON THE EUROPEAN TITLES

This weekend sees two important clashes in Sydney that could prove to have a big bearing on the outcome of the 1980 PSL championship.

Sydney City takes on Hellas and Blacktown hosts Heidelberg.

The complexion of the top four could change dramatically after these two clashes for both Sydney teams can do well again the cream of Melbourne's PSL talent.

Hellas is playing brilliantly and the clash will provide fans with the excitement of watching two of the best "wingers" in the PSL in City's Joe Watson and George Campbell of Hellas.

Both players stay wide and although Watson does not roam to Campbell's extent he too is a fine crosser and sets up many chances for his front runners.

Sydney City plays a 4-2-2 formation with Watson and Hilton Silva playing wide in the middle four and pushing forward quickly and effectively.

Campbell bobs up all over the place while Billy Rogers and George Christopoulos get back behind the ball when the opposition attacks so they act as a perfect foil for Campbell's adventurous nature.

With Alun Evans getting back into scoring touch the game should be a cracker but the biggest danger to Hellas will come from Ken Boden, the former Newcastle striker, whose brilliant close ball skills and vision can turn a game in a few seconds.

However Hellas sweeper Bertie Lutton is in great touch so the Melbourne based side should leave Sydney Athletic field with a meritorious point after a sizzling game.

Heidelberg faces a dangerous encounter against Blacktown which is no longer regarded as a relegation candidate and could make the four if its present form is maintained.

Blacktown's destruction of Marconi two weeks ago spells trouble for United at the back where Paddy Bannan, John Yzendoorn, Arthur McMillan and Jim Tansey have to contain Blacktown's inform duo of Paul Wilkinson and Ian Hunter, ably supported by Iowan's two star midfielders Stuart Selva and Brian O'Donnell.

By CRAIG MACKENZIE

Heidelberg should win nonetheless provided that its midfielders can break forward as quickly as usual and set up chances for Gary Cole and Jamie Paton.

Rale Rasic's fond memories of J.U.S.T. could be dimmed when Zdravko Lujic performs against Rasic's Adelaide City. Lujic is at long last getting the recognition at national level that he deserves and he should prove too hot to handle for City's defenders.

With Slobodan Jovanovic, Joe Piccioane and Zoran Illoski patiently interpassing in mid-field before suddenly breaking forward, Adelaide City will have to show much more patience than it showed when it last visited Melbourne and lost 2-1 to Hellas.

In other games APIA should account for Newcastle, Canberra should take both points from St. George, West Adelaide could find Lions too tough and Marconi, though struggling, should be too classy for Brisbane City.

Alofs nets three, Ceulemans stars

West Germany is poised to qualify for the European championships final after three goals by Klaus Alofs killed off Holland 3-2.

A spirited late rally in which Johnny Rep scored a penalty and four minutes from the end Willy van der Kerkhof hammered in a 25-metre drive, only added to Dutch frustration.

The West Germans operated with clinical efficiency. In an imposing collective effort the changes they had made to the side which scored a limp 1-0 victory over Czechoslovakia last Wednesday, paid off spectacularly.

Alofs owed his first and third goals to one of the newcomers, 20-year-old Bernd Schuster from Cologne, the outstanding player on view.

Italy and Belgium won their matches on Sunday and a place in the final will be at stake when they clash in the last Group Two match in Rome tomorrow (Thursday).

Standings after Sunday's matches:

GROUP ONE
	W	D	L	F
W. Germany	2	0	4	2
Czechoslovakia	1	0	1	4
Holland	1	0	1	3
Greece	0	0	2	1

GROUP TWO

Next games, Aust. time, Wednesday morning: Czechoslovakia v Holland, West Germany v Greece.

Thursday morning: Spain v England, Italy v Belgium.

Sunday morning: play-off for third place.

Monday morning: final.

In case of a draw, the final will be replayed in Rome Wednesday morning, Aust. time.

JUST slips City trap

FOOTSCRAY JUST 1
BRISBANE CITY 1

Scorers: JUST: Ilioski 3rd; BNC: McCuskey 52nd.
Ground: Middle Park.
Weather: Fine.
Crowd: About 1000.
Referee: E. Venios 6.

Houdail would have been proud of J.U.S.T. This was an escape to rival getting out of a chained trunk at the bottom of the Mississippi.

Brisbane City was at least three goals better, yet managed only a draw after coming from behind.

Sweeper George Potter was magnificent, cleaning up and brushing aside the token J.U.S.T. opposition in the middle. David Ratcliffe, Steve Perry and Bobby Hamilton helped Potter to build the play from the back, but had luck and bad shooting robbed City of a handsome victory.

And yet J.U.S.T. looked so good in the first 15 or 20 minutes.

Zdravko Lujic dashed down the left, and crossed to Dragan Vasic whose header was repelled by goalkeeper Kim Wishart. Zoran Ilioski put away the rebound to put J.U.S.T. into the lead after only three minutes.

J.U.S.T. continued to play some impressive soccer for a while but then Brisbane City took control via Potter, Kevin Low and Larry Gajny.

Only Peter Ollerton and Jim Kondarios in defence and Ilioski in midfield stood in Brisbane City's way.

Absolutely nothing came forward from J.U.S.T.'s mid-field. Joe Piccione played his worst game in years and lost the ball more often than you could count. Slobodan Jovanovic persisted in running with the ball instead of passing it.

Jim O'Reilly chased opponents and blocked a few attacks but did very little coming forward.

Igor Hazabent and Chris Petrov, the two full backs, also had an off day.

Petrov did however help to avert a goal when he stormed from behind to deflect an attempted shot by Jim McCuskey in the 35th minute.

But McCuskey had an even better chance soon after but missed from point-blank range.

Kiri Kyriakoulas, signed from South Melbourne Hellas during the week, came on at half time to replace Petrov, and his job was to mark Kevin Low which he did boots and all. At one stage an all-in fight seemed imminent.

Just after the break Piccione fired back a defensive clearance. Wishart dived, the ball bounced off him but there was no follow-up in, so Wishart was able to recover and gather the ball in.

Brisbane City equalised with a 20-metre shot by McCuskey just inside the post in the 52nd minute and J.U.S.T. coach Rocco Ilie replied by replacing Ilioski with forward Bruno Cossella.

Ilie was critical of Ilioski for not marking Hamilton closely enough, but Ilioski was playing a lot better than many other players.

Mark Brusasco could have won the game for City at least three times.

He missed from close range, unmarked, after Low had come down the wing and then he hit Boland after running into the clear on a through ball from McCuskey.

Nine minutes from the end, J.U.S.T. had the chance to win the game despite its generally bad play. Vasic, who had been working very hard without midfield support, took matters into his own hands, dropping very deep, picking up the ball and sending an inspired long pass to Lujic.

Lujic lobbed Wishart but the ball went far the post. Then Boland saved another two shots by Brusasco before the final whistle enabled J.U.S.T. to breathe a sigh of relief.

Kiwi goalie foils Lions

BRISBANE LIONS 0
CANBERRA CITY 0

Ground: Lions Stadium.
Weather: cloudy and cool.
Crowd: ~2500.
Referee: D. Nugent, 7.
Cautions: Nil.

Brisbane Lions finished all out of play of Canberra City but had to settle for sharing the points in this tough battle at the Lions Stadium.

Lions managed to maintain an unbeaten record at home, one which has lasted since South Melbourne beat them there on March 15, but the dropped point represents a setback to their top four aspirations.

The match was a story of two sets of rugged and committed centre backs, which generally had the measure of two rather unimaginative forward lines.

Col Bennett, who won just about every challenge in the air, and Jim Hermiston, were again the mainstays of the Lions rearguard.

And the men in control at the back for Canberra, playing for the first time under new coach John Brown, were Roy Stark and Mike Milovanovic, who played for most of the game with blood streaming from a nasty headcut.

It was reportedly Brown's decision to reinstate the unsettled Stark to the Canberra side, and what a solid match he produced.

Up front from Canberra, Walter Valeri and Terry Byrne had forgettable matches, with only former Lions striker Tony Brennan causing any moments of concern with some solid, jinking bursts.

New Zealand national coach John Adshhead watched the match to check on the form of likely World Cup starters, Richard Wilson and Duncan Cole from Canberra and Mark's John Verweij and Mark McNaughton.

Of the quartet only the agile Wilson came through with flying colors, as it was he, plus the aerial ability of Stark and Milovanovic, who was responsible for keeping Lions out in the second half.

Cole had an extremely poor match, eventually being replaced by Sebastian Gimpson, who, who was married the week before, missed the previous Footscray game and started on the bench.

Terwel and McNaughton worked hard, but like most of the other Lions players, did not have sufficient ideas to find a way through the tough Canberra defence.

Wilson's great anticipation and positioning enabled him to snuff several dangerous chances from Lions' most effective striker Ron Millman, who looked the only one capable of breaking the deadlock.

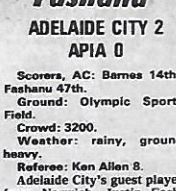

But Wilson's save of the match came five minutes from the end when leftback Alan Niven spotted the Kiwi off his line.

Niven thought he had struck pay dirt when he chipped intelligently, but Wilson seemed back-pedalled to effect a marvellous save.

In complete contrast, Lions' Tony Scanlan was rarely troubled all day, with the Onaghi-Bennett-Kendall and Niven blanket in front of him.

If a player spits at an opponent in a penalty area he will be sent off with a red card. If the offence is committed outside the area either by a player or an official he will be ordered off for violent conduct and a free kick awarded.

A FIFA proposal that goalkeepers be permitted to move along their lines but not forward at a penalty kick was unanimously rejected. Delegates decided to keep the existing rule which prevents goalkeepers from moving their feet before the penalty is taken.

WEST ADELAIDE 0

Scorers: Burrows 53rd, McClelland 89th.
Ground: International Sports Centre.
Weather: Cool and Cloudy.
Cautions: Nil.
Crowd: 4429.
Referee: Richard Lorenz.

Newcastle finally broke the goal drought which was plaguing the side for the last four games and in the process collected two valuable points when it defeated West Adelaide last Saturday at the International Sports Centre.

It looked as if it was going to be another one of those games where the locals dominated the proceedings, created chances but could not find the back of the net.

Apart from two blunders David Jones had a top game and his work rate was faultless, and with Paul Burrows and David Kamas also having good matches this is the best the front trio has looked for some time.

The second half opened in the same rain and after only one minute Joe Senkalski combined well with Jones with a neat one-two on the edge of the penalty area to send Jones away. Martin Crook left his goal to smother the shot but the ball landed to Paul Burrows on the left whose drive crashed against the upright.

By then the local supporters had given up hope of seeing their side scoring, and when four minutes later Drinkwater powered a header into the back of the net and the referee disallowed the goal for alleged interference on the goalkeeper, the local fans were convinced that this was not their day.

But then, as it often happens in football, eight minutes into the second half Jones and Crook performed some smart work on the left and from Jones's left foot cross into the centre Paul Burrows rose majestically above the defence to finally beat Crook and break the deadlock.

West Adelaide had to open up search for the equalizer if it was to salvage something out of the game.

And that's exactly improved the game as a spectacle but unfortunately West Adelaide's attacking ideas were a little cloudy and seldom troubled the well drilled Newcastle defence.

Carruthers, Norris and Honeysett tried hard to get the side going and probe some openings in the Newcastle backline but rarely got close enough to trouble Phil Dando in the Newcastle goal.

However it was in this period of time that Joe Senkalski put his stamp on the game, his first since having his appendix removed.

Stan Bowles who walked out on Nottingham Forest on the eve of his European Cup final with Hamburg could return to his former club Queens Park Rangers and Tony Docherty. Don Revie who was axed not long back as boss of the United Arab Emirates, is staying in the Middle East and is now manager of the Al Nassar F.C. which was recently thrashed 8-0 by Liverpool.

Trevor Francis, out of action with an ankle tendon injury, has had a medical examination by the Barcelona Football Club medicals. If the club is satisfied, Francis could move for the biggest ever British export transfer fee.

Luton keeper Jake Findlay has asked the club to move to compensate for inflation. Findlay cost Luton a six-figure fee from Aston Villa less than 18 months ago.

The Saints are back in business and about time too!

After a season of disappointment and hardship the outlook now seems decidedly brighter for the Saints if they can put it all together like they did in this one against Blacktown.

Any similarity between this present Saints team and the one that struggled through the opening part of the season is purely coincidental.

With the influx of Ernie Campbell, Peter Stone and John Russell, Saints now know what this professional game of football is all about.

The presence of this trio has lifted all the other players and now Saints have a team. Even though it has taken them two attempts this season to build one.

Saints big star of the afternoon was Ernie Campbell who relished the muddy conditions and teased and taunted the Blacktown defence constantly.

Ernie is thoroughly enjoying his football with Saints and is turning on the style. He opened the scoring in the 14th minute with a fine goal when put through by Billy Griffiths. Two minutes later he returned the compliment when he set one up for Griffiths to score.

The game was then set alight when Cliff Pointer pulled one back for Blacktown with a header in the 28th minute.

From then on it was hammer and tongs throughout with the plucky Blacktown giving as much as it received.

In fact before Saints gloried in two minutes when they got their two goals, Blacktown could easily have scored twice.

Youth international Ian Hunter was through on two occasions only to fail narrowly.

Hunter shows a great deal of promise but is still very green and lacks experience. To suggest that he is ready for the senior team is complete nonsense and the kid has a lot of schooling to go through before he deserves this honor.

He should be brought on slowly and intelligently and not rushed into a situation he could do his career harm.

Hunter's first task as captain Australia's youth team next year — forget the Soccerex at the moment, the boy is not ready yet.

The second half was just as exciting and entertaining as the first with both teams very determined.

Saints increased their lead in the 75th minute through Dennis Duarte and Peter Stone got the fourth three minutes from time.

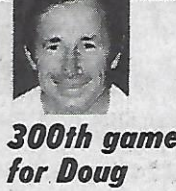

Blacktown on this display should have no relegation problems. Its players are an enthusiastic bunch who give their lot.

However, Blacktown has a big weak spot at fullback where Steve Pollard and Tony Rasmussen had a day they will want to forget. It could be that George Harris and Warren Trenchard would be a better proposition in these positions.

In midfield the Demons finished behind Saints, although Stuart Selva, Richi Hormazabal and Brian O'Donnell are willing warriors.

Up front Hunter and Wilkinson are fine but Jim Izatt has seen better days.

As I said previously Saints should have no relegation problems. Its players are a quality bunch who give their team.

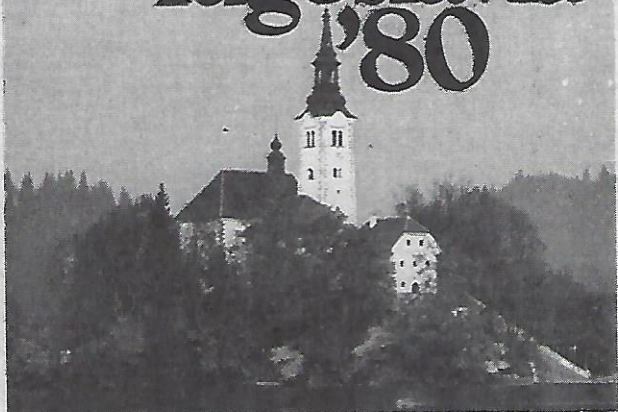

New ref.

Victoria has gained a second female referee in the inviting shape of Mary Rose Coumoussis.

Mary Rose has completed her first week of officiating at junior games and she hopes that her move will prompt more likely lasses to take a step into this previously male dominated area.

Anderson takes over

Metro division one team Dandenong City replaced coach Norrie Davey with John Anderson last week.

Anderson is probably the best credentialled player to grace our shores having had a distinguished *career with Stoke City in England.

He has previously coached Frankston Pines and assisted former Dandenong coach John Pryde during Pryde's stay at the club.

Dandenong responded to its new coach by beating Box Hill

2-0 on Monday at Booth Reserve.

Davey's reputation is such that he should be idle for a very short period.

PARK RANGERS: Vassiliou, Ogden, Spalding, McLeod, Lee, McElhinney, Parsons, Stewart, Dall, Scott, Monteth.

The game ended as a contest when Priestly was sent off in the first half for fouling Dall of Park Rangers. Priestly had been booked a minute before for dissent.

Nonetheless Knox contained the Rangers and went in at the break on level terms.

Two minutes after the restart Dall opened the scoring when he beat McConville and shot from the right side of the area giving Knox keeper Butcher no chance with a hard, low drive into the far corner.

Ten minutes later Scott saved it up when he sent Parsons near post flick on after a McElhinney corner from the left and headed home in a crowded goal mouth.

Dalager was the culprit as far as Knox was concerned for his bad finishing shot in the first half.

Dalager missed a point blank header early in the second half before breaking through near the end but his decision to chip Rangers huge keeper Paul Vassiliou spoiled what should have been a goal for the home team.

Eagles hold onto top

NSW State League

State League front-runners Melita Eagles, despite missing a penalty, adapted themselves to the heavy conditions to crush Bankstown 4-1 at Garside Park.

Both goalkeepers were kept busy but Terry Greedy proved the safer of the Melita goal.

Melita should have taken the lead in the 24th minute when Vic Juchiewicz was tripped in the box.

But Don Allan put his spot kick straight at goalkeeper Wally Lachowicz who held the shot.

Allan made amends for his miss in the 51st minute when he scored from beside the post following a Juchiewicz cross.

Terry Jones added another for Melita in the 68th minute, slipping the ball under the advancing keeper.

Paul Thompson reduced the arrears for Bankstown four minutes later with a 25m free kick that was deflected by a Melita player.

With six minutes remaining Juchiewicz beat a Bankstown defender on the run to score just inside the posts from 8m.

Jones made it four for Melita with a great 30m drive to complete the score line.

Sydney Olympic, playing without two regular first graders, notched a hard fought 2-1 win against Monaro at Pratten Park.

Olympic took the lead on half-time when Ian Rowden was left unmarked six metres from goal and headed in a perfect cross from Andy Scott.

Monaro keeper Nick Antonopoulos did well to save a fierce shot from Housseini early in the second half.

Melita 4 (Jones 2, Allan, Juchiewicz) Bankstown 1 (Thompson) at Garside Park.

Canterbury 4 (Williams 2, Thompson, Jordan OG), Parramatta 1 (Stephenson) at Arlington.

Auburn 1 (McCannor) Avale 1 (Nitya) at Mona Park.

Sydney Olympic 2 (Rowden, Koussas) Monaro 1 (Noble) at Pratten Park.

Armidale Scots v Sutherland a Hurstville — postponed.

Ku-Ring-Gai v Croatia at Parklands Oval — postponed.

North Sydney v Manly at North Sydney — postponed.

But he was well beaten in the 60th minute by Mark Koussas, who headed in from beside the post.

Monaro pulled on back six minutes from the end.

Velice Trajanoski took a corner from the right and Bob Noble slammed home a great shot from outside the penalty area.

Canterbury overpowered Parramatta 4-1 in a rugged game at Arlington Oval.

Canterbury scored first in the 10th minute when Chris Thammidis crossed to striker Terry Thompson, who had little trouble pushing the ball past keeper Denis Donovan.

Parramatta were two down 30 seconds later when Thammidis's cross was deflected into the net by defender Tom Jordan.

Canterbury's third goal came in the 63rd minute when midfielder Neil Williams put away Greg Byles' free kick while on the ground.

Williams was on target again seven minutes later when he rose high to head in Byles' lob over the keeper's head.

Chivers and Rainey the men to watch

By CRAIG MACKENZIE

With Juventus battling it out with five other Victorian State League teams at the top of the table, the Italian fans should need little incentive to come to Centenary Park this weekend.

Those who come to support Juve will have the added attraction of watching Martin Chivers whose first-game performance, under the strain of travel and not knowing his team mates, was brilliant.

To what heights big "Chiv" is capable of rising after settling in and supervising Frankston's training is a dreaded thought to strike fear into the hearts of Juve's fans.

With Kevin Wall and Bruce Young learning to time their runs and to pick up space, God help Juve's defence which can look cumbersome and brittle at times.

The injection of solidity sadly lacking could come from Juve's new import John Creany provided he arrives in time for this important clash.

Frankston should show the benefit of Chivers' expertise and take both points in a close encounter.

Croydon and Croydon get the opportunity to turn on as good a game as their recent Croydon Park encounter.

Croydon feels that it is close to getting the better of its more prestigious opponent but Croatia coach John Gardiner will be keen to keep his side's drive towards Makedonia in full flight.

Another draw could be the best bet provided that Croydon shows the heart and endeavour of the last clash three weeks ago.

Makedonia and Green Gully clash at Connor Reserve and the Makedonia machine has started to run into top gear with that dynamic forward trio of Gary Ward, George McMillan and Robert Cullen looking to be in devastating touch.

Now that Mick Rainey has found his form, his bursts upfield will pose a constant threat to Gully and Makedonia can keep a firm grasp on top spot by taking two points.

Western Suburbs will be keen to avenge their recent loss to Slavia and, driven on by the added incentive to appeasing their vocal fans will give everything against Tony Vrzina's side.

Slavia cannot be taken lightly and a draw could be the result of what should be a fierce and willing clash.

In other games Hakoah's place in the top four should not be threatened by the struggling George Cross and Sunshine and Altona could repeat their draw of three weeks ago.

Our guest tipster this week is Croydon coach NORM HOBSON. Norm coached Ringwood City, Mooroolbark and Doncaster prior to his present successful stint with Croydon. He has an impressive record with Metro Division Two team Doncaster, having taken it from Fourth Division to Second. Presently Croydon desperately lies in third spot in the State League. Norm's selections with likely winners in capitals:

SUNSHINE v. Altona at Chaplin Reserve, Saturday, 2.45 pm.

Croatia v. Croydon (draw) at Olympic Park No. 2, Sunday, 3 pm.

Frankston v. Juventus (draw) at Centenary Park, Sunday, 3 pm.

MAKEDONIA v. Green Gully at B.T. Connor Reserve, Sunday, 3 pm.

Hakoah v. GEORGE CROSS at Middle Park, Sunday, 3 pm.

Western Suburbs v. Slavia (draw) at Schintler Reserve, Sunday, 3 pm.

By JIM MUIR

On the Ball The Player's Viewpoint

Politics decided my future in Adelaide.

When I eventually signed for Marconi I had depreciated $6000 in two months. That's how much St. George had offered for me.

But nonetheless, coming to Australia has been the best move for me and my family.

I joined Motherwell in the Scottish First Division in 1967 so I stayed with them right up till 1972.

Actually I started playing up front but the game that changed me into a centre half was against Norwich in the now defunct Texaco Cup.

Motherwell's manager was worried by the heading ability of David Cross who was Norwich's main striker at the time.

I was moved back to cover Cross and I did well so I became a central defender.

Dumbarton bought me in 1972 for 28,000 pounds and it had a pretty good side at the time.

The year before the inception of the Premier League was a sort of qualifying year because the top 10 teams in First Division went into the Premier League the following year.

Dumbarton finished 11th and missed out by one spot.

After that the club started to go downhill and after my captaincy stint, lasting four years, I ended up in Australia.

I initially came here as a guest player for Adelaide City thanks to the good reference given me by ex-Celtic boss Jock Stein.

Dumbarton was selling off players anyway, so I thought Australia was the go.

The first year I played in the PSL I was very disappointed with the standard because you were able to say well, we're playing this lot this week, so that should be an easy two points.

But the competitiveness of the league has improved dramatically in recent times and it's so hard now that there are no easy points.

Look at Blacktown for example. It was easy early on but it's no pushover anymore.

The strength of the league lies in the fact that anyone can beat anyone else.

And people have accepted the league as the top level of football in this country. That is important.

However, there are only a select few clubs that are geared for fulltime professionalism.

And even fewer administrators are geared for professionalism.

As the PSL has improved, the administration and media have stood still and even gone backwards in certain ways.

The one thing that annoys me about the administrators and the media is the lack of time they spend getting to know the players. We're just numbers that they see on the back of a shirt.

Getting back to what I said at the start, it was politics that finished me with Adelaide City and it's politics that still bound me now.

Rale Rasic is leading the guns and the journalists are firing them for him.

Halfway through my last season in Adelaide I was injured and Rasic went to his board and asked for them to okay his decision to look for another centre half.

He said that I was not fit enough so the club went ahead and eventually bought David Jones from West Adelaide.

But at the end of the year I went to Italy with Ray Richards' touring team and I proved my fitness.

The whole point was that my background meant that I was an asset that Adelaide City could sell whereas a lot of the players in South Australia find it hard to get away.

While on the topic of South Australia players, let me say that I really respect the guys there who have made a name for themselves because it's hard to get any recognition.

The Nyskohus's, Kosmina's and others deserve all the recognition they get and Steve Perry from Brisbane is in the same boat.

Let's face it, Melbourne and Sydney are the meccas of football here.

Anyway, back to my move from Adelaide.

I was going to go to St. George for $12,000 but I couldn't come to terms with them so that fell through.

Two months later and after all the backstabbing, I went to Marconi for $6,000.

I'm well aware of the criticism that has been levelled at me both at Marconi and in the Australian team.

But remember that my ability was never doubted in Adelaide.

I've already outlined the main reasons for my switch to Marconi.

The thing to remember about top clubs like Marconi is that all you can do is maintain your excellence or go down.

I know that Marconi is not doing well at present and sure, I admit it, we've got our problems, but before everyone writes us off they should take a look at the PSL ladder and see how far off the pace we are.

I reckon that we will be there at the end of the season.

As for all this stuff about playing non-Australians in the national team, let me tell you that I have all the credentials to become an Australian citizen.

All the knockers should let things be.

I've got no plans to go back to Scotland, I've got a child born here and my children have a better chance of going places in this country.

As for playing with the national team, I regard myself as a week-to-week proposition.

Playing for the national team is a compliment on how you are playing for your club.

The main thing was my move to Marconi.

The point about playing non-Australians is that as far as I am concerned it shouldn't matter where you come from as long as you have the credentials and ability.

As for Australia's chances of getting to Spain I think it is too far away for people to talk about.

Rapid worries Sydney City

In a gutsy performance, Tasmanian champion Rapid West Point went down to Sydney City at Grove Road, Hobart, on Saturday night.

Rapid conceded only one goal and was unfortunate not to score, finally going down 1-0.

The game started at a fast pace and in the 12th minute Rapid forward, Mark Oakes, skimmed the bar with a sensational shot which had the keeper beaten.

City jumped Rapid early in the second half to score.

In the second minute of the half, Mark Treanter capitalised on a bad back pass to Rapid keeper, Philip Kannegeisser, to score an easy goal.

This goal seemed to spur Rapid on and it attacked relentlessly without result.

After the match, City's captain-coach, Eddie Thompson said he was surprised at the high standard of soccer Rapid played.

He said Rapid would test many Philips League teams if it entered the competition.

NATIONAL TEAM IS LITTLE'S AIM

John Little always has been an Altona lad and his stay with the Victorian State League club is reaching a peak as week by week he mixes it successfully with more experienced and tougher opponents.

John was six years old when he started to play soccer and his love of the game has never waned throughout a successful junior career. John represented Victoria at almost every stage of his soccer development, playing in the State team at under-10, 12, 14, 15, 16 and youth level.

John is well aware of the battle for places in the Australian youth team for the 1981 Coca-Cola World Youth finals but he sees a place for himself provided the effort he now puts in is recognised and rewarded.

As well as playing in Altona's senior team, John trains privately and his stamina and tremendous work rate should stand him in good stead for the future.

He has played in many positions but he favors an adventurous role in keeping with his proven ability at youth level to win possession on the edge of the area and shoot effectively.

John was Victoria's leading scorer in the 1980 youth titles held in Canberra.

Of his chance to gain selection in Australia's youth team John is realistic about the quality of his opposition.

"Paul Kay will be very hard to dislodge but I believe I can play an attacking part in what should be a very strong team," he said.

And what of the future?

"Well, my main ambition is to play for Australia but I am thrilled to be a part of the youth squad.

"I was both happy and disappointed when I was on the bench against Australia B in Sydney recently.

"It was good to be there but not playing was terrible.

"I think that I can make it and I certainly will give it all I've got."

And what John Little has got could be just the tonic that our youth team needs. — CRAIG MAC KENZIE

West wins in Asia

KUALA LUMPUR, — The West Australian under 15 team last week defeated its Malacca State counterparts 3-1 in a soccer match at the Kubu Stadium in Malacca, 130 kms south of here.

Ron Falcone opened accounts on the 10th minute to give the tourists a 1-nil lead at half time.

Five minutes after resumption Hashim Marnan equalised for Malacca, but Gary Sweeney netted from a penalty to re-establish the lead for the visitors.

In the 69th minute Lee Claxton increased the final tally to 3-1.

Wollongong new venue

The strong possibility of TV coverage has prompted the organisers of the national under-18 schoolboys championships to switch venues for the August 24 to 29 titles from Sydney to Wollongong.

Tour manager for the Victorian team, David Evans, contacted "Soccer Action" with details of the change and also details concerning the alterations to times, venues and dates for the first and second trials to select the Victorian side.

The first trial will be held behind the Royal Children's Hospital, Gatehouse Street, Royal Park at 10.30 am on Thursday 19 June. From this trial about 25 boys will be selected to attend the second trial to be held on Thursday 26 June at the same time and venue.

A final squad of 15 boys will then be selected to train for the championships. Any further information can be gained by contacting David Evans on (03) 756 6208.

COACH YOURSELF SOCCER by ALLEN WADE

Director of Coaching, The Football Association

We often hear the expression 'practice makes perfect'. But how many of us have almost worked ourselves to death in practice when perfection has seemed to be further away than ever?

Practice will only bring about improvement if it is of the right kind and supplemented by understanding. More than ever before, success in football demands 'thinking' players. This is the era of the all-round player who has mastered the game's full complement of skills. The ideas which this book presents to trainers, coaches and players are ideas which have been developed by the top coaches in England over the years, during which we have been obliged to searchingly reflect upon our position as the leading football nation in the world. We know that they will stand you in good stead whatever your involvement in the game.

Then big Jim Muir answers a red alert in the goal area, clearing the ball away from the lurking forwards after Henderson's head has deflected a bad "pass" from Cole back towards goal.

Taney has been hurt. Rooney goes down and also is in pain.

Gutendorf is preparing to bring on Mark Jankovic for Muir, and push Henderson back into Muir's position but he changes his mind and Rooney comes off instead.

Taney hurts himself again as he crashes after going up with Hamilton for a header. He needs treatment, but carries on courageously although he looks sick.

Muir shows similar courage in continuing to throw himself into battle although blood is streaming from his face.

Irish manager Billy Bingham makes a change in the 67th minute, bringing on Terry Cochrane for Dave McCreery who, apparently, has been carrying an injury. Perhaps the change should have been made earlier for Cochrane immediately impresses with his fine skill and willingness to take on a man.

Barnes saves Australia yet again with a tackle on Hamilton just before the Socceroos launch one of their few second-half attacks.

It starts with Cole galloping down the right onto a Sharpe pass and squaring the ball into the box for Jankovic, but Cassidy slides in to clear.

And in the 73rd minute Australia looks dangerous again as Krncevic races onto a through ball from Zyzendorn, and rounds Platt who is left sprawled on the ground. But Krncevic has been forward too wide on the right. There are no Australians in the middle, and when Krncevic tries to score himself with an angled shot, McClelland is there to head clear.

Gutendorf makes another change in the 74th minute, bringing on Ken Boden for Cole.

Henderson clears for a corner as Brotherton tries to work his way through the packed defence for a shot, but Australia is unable to hang on any longer.

Martin O'Neill, the Nottingham Forest man who has worked so hard this half, is the one who does the damage.

He runs onto the ball at the edge of the area, right of centre, and angles a marvellous drive over Barnovic into the far top corner. No-one would have saved that shot and Bingham is right to call the goal "a bit special" after the match. 1-1 after 84 minutes.

Alan Davidson comes on for Sharpe to help chase, tackle and close down opponents in midfield as Gutendorf insures against another possible Irish goal. Davidson, although he's on for such a short time, is extremely impressive.

Joe Vlastis, national coach from 1967 to 1970, is to say after the game: "Davidson is up to this class now. Not in the future, but now. He has everything, and he is a fighter."

SOCCER TACTICS AND TEAMWORK

Manager of the England Amateur team and Assistant Director of Coaching, THE FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

It's a book with today's... unique in style and authoritative in a way that can only come from unsurpassed experience in the coaching field, coupled with a modern outlook. And — wait for it — it's exciting. Charles Hughes is to be congratulated on producing a book

THE STRANGE RISE, FALL AND RISE OF JIM ADAM

MIKE JOHNSON

The fortunes of Sydney Olympic and its coach, Jim Adam, are intertwined as they both seek redemption from a fall from grace.

The almost religious fanaticism of Olympic's supporters for a return to the national league may provide the impetus for their resurrection.

When Jim Adam lost his coaching position at APIA last year and Olympic lost its Phillips League status it seemed natural that they should get together in a joint effort of recovery.

To date things are going very much as both parties would have hoped. Olympic's first ever trophy was collected in the early season after beating Sydney Croatia in the Ampol Cup, and now the team is settled on top of the NSW State league.

However, not even Olympic's fanatical supporters were fooled by the level of accomplishment and the cup win did not bring with it the same hysteria that would have accompanied it in earlier times when Hakoah, St. George, Marconi and others were competing.

Indeed, even with Olympic winning its State league games week after week, its supporters disapproved that team, in any division, so long as it is winning.

Home crowds of three thousand and less have indicated that playing standards are also important, even to the enthusiastic Greeks.

Recently I attended Olympic's top of the table clash against State league rival Melita.

Almost 5,000 people were in Olympic's Pratten Park ground, though probably 1,000 of these would be Melita supporters.

The atmosphere was vibrant with noise and colour like the early Phillips League days, when all was optimism, before the seemingly inevitable decline.

But the game was not memorable. Melita played the football, typical of the possession style preferred by coach Attie Abonyi and his predecessor Raul Blanco.

Olympic had the drive which is a characteristic of Jim Adam's teams and is also characteristic of Scottish players and Adam was once a successful member of that clan.

The game could have gone either way. It went to Olympic 2-0 and as the second goal was driven high into the net by substitute Jim Zeros just seven minutes from time I saw the usually reserved Adam leap off the bench high into the air, arms over his head in triumph. Did he feel, like so many of the yelling Greek supporters seemed to feel, that this was IT, the State League title will be ours — then keep us out of the Phillips league if you can?

Jim Adam has had a strange coaching career in recent years, moving from country to country, city to city, club to club, sometimes of his own wish, often not, seeking positions where he could exercise his own peculiar style of coaching and management.

He attracted controversy at Heidelberg and Makedonia, chaos at APIA, and success at West Adelaide but insufficient credit.

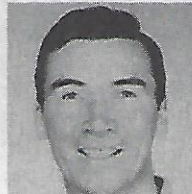

He has a fierce supporter in fellow Scot, Peter Boyle, who himself has fallen from grace under the new reign at West Adelaide.

Adam considers that he has built many teams for others to pick up and gain the credit from.

Certainly he was involved in player recruitment at Heidelberg and to a lesser degree at APIA.

He considers he was an unlucky man with some teams, but at Adelaide he said the sun shone down on him with extraordinary benevolence to make up for the rough times. At Olympic he will not need so much assistance from above.

He has a powerful squad for State league involvement but he will need to keep looking over his shoulder at Melita and an improving Croatia.

Jim Adam

However, Jim Adam and his club will be hard to stop from taking out the league title which they will then throw down as their entry card into the national league, where both of them consider they belong.

• Juventus was formed in 1948 by Tony Iannucci, the first president. It was not until former Olympic cyclist Nino Borani took over that the club's rise to prominence gathered full momentum. Juventus has had countless Victorian representatives and many Soccer League players. The club's current PSL clubs Hellas and J.U.S.T. as one of the most successful clubs in the pre-war history of Victorian soccer and its recent rise to the top of the Italian area of Brunswick suggests that the days of mass soccer are not far off. Juventus has won its impressive honours list includes: Third Division champions 1949, First Division champions 1952, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, State League champions 1958, 1970, Dockerty Cup winners 1960, 1970, 71, 72, 77, Armstrong Cup winners 1952, 1955, 1966, State League Cup winners 1958, 1969, 1970, Ampol Cup winners 1959, "World Cup" winners (as Italy) 1955, 1960.

RESULTATI SVE BOLJI — PUBLIKE SVE MANJE

Australija je igrala sa Severnom Irskom nerešeno 1:1 (1:0) na Olympic Parku pred svega 9000 gledalaca. Do skoro bi ovakav rezultat zvucno senzacionalno, danas vise ne. Medjutim, sto najvise zabrinjava, to je — sve slabiji idziv publike. Nekada, kada je bilo sigurno da ce gosti izrešetati nasu mrezu, stadioni su bili prepuni. Uspehi i napredak Australije, zvuci paradoksalno, uticu negativno na publiku, koja rezonuje sasvim nelegicno: "Ako mozemo da pobedjujemo sa nasim polunamaterima najskuplje profesionalce, vrednost današnjeg nogometa je vrlo niska!" Pored nasih dobrih rezultata, razlika u standardu je jos uvek velika. Gisti se obicno opuste kad dodju u Australiju, jer nemaju motivaciju, dok je sa Australijom obrnut slučaj.

Prema formi i rezultatima, koje je Australija do sad postigla, teoritski se vec kvakifikovala za završnu borbu u Španiji 1982. godine. Medjutim, praksa i teorija cesto idu u raskorak, sto nasi uspjesi najbolje pokazuju.

J.U.S.T. NEMA SREDINU

Od kako je Mirko Rujic zbog povrede prestao da igra, pocela je da skripi "plava masina", tamo gde je najvaznije. JUST kao da nema vise sredinu, zbog cega se stalno grevito brani, a napada neorganizovano same preko jednog igrača Zdravka Lujica. Nije onda cudo sto na kraju utakmice Lujic jedva vuče noge. Da bi nesreća bila jos veca, Josip Picioane je van forme, a Slobodan Jovanovic nema fizicke mogucnosti da popuni prazninu. Stoga, J.U.S.T. ipak cerupa bodove treba zahvaliti izvanrednoj formi Denis Bolanda i Peter Ollertona, koji se sve bolje snalazi kao poslednji odbranbeni igrač.

Protiv poslednjeg na tabeli JUST je pruzio najslabiju igru u ovoj godini, ali je ipak izvukao nerešen rezultat. Sportska sreća je trenutno na JUST-ovoj strani, ali se na nju ne moze uvek racunati. Iduce nedelje na Olympic Parku JUST ce polagati težak ispit, jer je protivnik Rasevic Adelaide City, koji se ambiciozno približava vrhu tabele.

OSTALI RESULTATI

ALTONA GATE — POLONIA 1:0 (0:0). Necekivana, ali zaslezena pobeda Altona Gate, dosla je u pravo vreme, ali nije resila sve probleme, jer je opasnost od ispadanja jos uvek aktuelna. Prema sansama, Altona Gate je morala da pobedi sa mnogo vecim rezultatom. Jedini gol je postigao Sekula Sekulovski u 85. minuti, posto mu je Cele Taleviski servirao loptu tako da je bilo nemoguće promasiti. Odbrana Altona je bila toliko cvrst da Polonija nije imala ni jednu priliku koja je mislila na gol. Najbolji za Altona Gate: Mire Kraljevski, Sekula Sekulovski i Dragi Naumovic. Iduce nedelje Altona Gate igra kao gost protiv Morelanda, koji je takode kandidat za ispadanje.

BELL PARK — J.U.S.T. 1:2 (0:1). Povratnik Vlatka Belica i Dany Aceskog mnogo su znali za drugi tim JUST-a, ali je zadnje vreme igrao bezglavo. Steta sto Vlatko Belic nije dovoljno precizan, inace je majstor da pripremi sebi sansu za gol. U zadnjem minutu je tuzno posmatrao kako je dzomba na gol liniji sprečila priliku da se upise u strele. Streli za JUST: Sulejman Curovic u 44. i Dany Aceski u 83. minuti. Prvi put smo culi da su obe strane bile zadovoljne sa sudijom. Nas zemljak Djokica Stojkovic je sudio "ni po baby ni po strcevima", sto je danas retkost i na juniorskim utakmicama, gde su sudije najveci navijaci. U predigri je rezervna Bell Parka pobedila "plavu" sa 2:0, koji su imali po obicaju 90% od igre, ali nisu znali kako da ubace loptu u mrežu. Iduce subote: Park Rangers — J.U.S.T.

EAST BRUNSWICK — CARLTON/SRBIA 0:0. Rezultat odgovara igri, iako je domacinu vise odgovaralo blatnjav i dzombast teren. Iman Cvijic je branio izvanredno, dok je navala ovog puta bila mlitava i neprecizna. Na sreću ostali rezultati su isli na ruku Carlton/Srbiji tako da je sacuvala prvo mesto sa jednim bodom prednosti. Iduce subote Carlton/Srbija je slobodna, zbog cega mozda izgubi prvo mesto ako Thomastown pobedi East Brunswick.

HAWTHORN CITIZENS — HAWKS BURN 1:2 (0:1). Na igralistu, koje je podsecalo na banatski put u poznu jesen, Hawksburn se je bolje snasao od domacina. Duboko blato je ipak uticalo na rezultati, jer su mnoge niske i teško usporavale igru, cak spaspavale Hawthornu, ciji je gol bio neprestano uzgore. Hawksburn je poveo sa 1:0 u 19. minutu preko Pere Oslakovica, koji je za deli sekunde brze reagirao od golmana i centarsut Joe Sabo-a smestio u mrežu. Joe Sabo je povišio na 2:0 posle idealne kombinacije, koju je zapoceo nemurni Andras Sejmies u 50. minutu. Oduzeo je loptu negde na sredini igralista, dodao Oslakovicu, a ovaj nabacio pred sensaensterc, gde je Istvan Laslo spustio tacno na nogu natraglog Joe Saba. Posle ovog gola Hawksburn je malo poptustio, sto je domacin iskoristio da smanji na 2:1. Završnica pripada opet Hawksburnu, ali Istvan Laslo, Janos Sabo nisu bili precizni pred praznim golom.

CENTRAL ALTONA/SLOGA — KARINGALD UNITED 0:1 (0:0). Iako domacin, Sloga je morala da igra u Karingaldu, jer optuina nije završila radove, tako da su u pitanju sve domace utakmice do kraja prvenstva, sto je veliki hendikep za Central Altonu. To je pokazala i ova utakmica, koju bi Sloga sigurno dobila da je igrala na svom igralistu. Ipak, Sloga je imala idealne sanse. Prosto je neverovatno kako je George Josevski dva puta promasio gol sa nekoliko metara. Isti tako Ljupco Iljevski i Ljupco Ivanovski, iako dobro cvstali, mogli su iako da se opisu u strele.

VARDAR — BRAT/JEDINSTVO (SPRINGVALE UTS.). "B" 3:1 (1:0). Zaslužena pobeda Vardara, ali i protivnik imao je idealne prilike da izvuce nerešen rezultat. Medjutim golman Kole Ivanovski je tako branio, da je steta sto gubi vreme u amaterskoj nedeljnoj ligi, jer ima kvalitete cak i za Philips ligu. Streli: Mendo Ristic u 41. minutu, Lazo Zdravcevic u 47. i 77. minutu za Vardar, Risto Petrovski u 89. minutu za Bratstvo/Jedinstvo. Iduce nedelje je Vardar slobodan, ali ce po svoji prilici igrati prijateljsku utakmicu.

EMOCION Y TRIUNFOS PROXIMA FECHA A TODO FUTBOL ...

Y que quiere ... son cosas de Los Morochos

Hotham United 1 Greensborough 2

Los primeros 15 minutos prometieron una cosa, pero en el transcurso del partido aparecieron otras y ademas esa particular forma de especinarse por hacer la mas dificil de LOS MOROCHOS. Pierden frente a un rival, QUE NO SABE, QUE PUE MENOS QUE ELLOS EN TODO EL CAMPO, y al que DOMINARON TODO EL PARTIDO, PERO PIERDEN.

HOTHAM UNITED: ROJAS-NIETO-JARA-NILLO-ANDERSON-VALENZUELA
RUBIO-LEIVA-FLORES-CEPINICH-LOPEZ-
Cambios- Lesionado sale CHICHO LOPEZ y reaparece en primera "CABECITA" OPAZO, LEIVA dejo lugar a HERNANDEZ.

ARBITRO MR. DE BOER, algunas fallas pero en general bien. Desde el comienzo el partido se plantea con un equipo que llega con pelota dominada, pisa el area y trata de llegar al gol, por la mas dificil. Falta esa decision de tirar al arco, pero igual el gol esta rondando. Se destaca la figura del arquero visitante, un chico de solo 16 años delgado, de fisico todavia sin "terminar", pero que dirige a toda la defensa y comienza a "parar" y "volar" pelotas que al principio parecian suerte y luego se constituyen en la sal de un partido que lo tiene como el mejor hombre de la cancha, Charlie Roney.

A los 17 minutos, LOS MOROCHOS son victimas de las cosas que solo nos pasan a los SUDAMERICANOS. A veces saber y querer demostrarlo se paga, especialmente frente al que no sabe. Pelota en profundidad al area, pica en el area chica, se cruza JARA haciendole de cortina al arquero ROJAS, pica entre los dos, los dos la MIRAN, entra el numero 8 "la revienta" y a LLORAR.

I de ahí en mas comienza otro partido. Un partido en que los MOROCHOS salen a "comerse" a los inglesitos. Y los inglesitos comienzan a tirarlos para arriba, a los costado y el arquero a agarrarse y FLORES y compania a "hacer" una de mas, dos de mas, tres de mas. FLORES es un excelente muchacho, no nos ensafamos con él, pero, cada vez que la pelota llega a sus pies, comienza un INTERMINABLE, con cierto de vueltas, paradas, taques, toques y por supuesto frente a estos LA PIERDE, porque, o va al suelo o queda hecho un NUDO con el mismo. Los demas en el area, o en el medio, se DESESPERAN y a correr, porque viene el contraataque de los inglesitos. Y así, TODO EL PARTIDO.

En el segundo tiempo las cosas no varian, CHICHO LOPEZ, se desgarran en la ingle, igual que CARDONE, y entra OPAZO un jugador, fino, para el toque, para ese CABEZAZO sensacional, pero a FLORES nadie se lo dice y jamas tira un centro, UNO. Ya hasta parece proposito. En otra escapada llega el segundo del GREENSBOROUGH y entonces la moral y la impotencia hacen doler las piernas de los inglesitos porque algunos MOROCHOS, meten unos morochazos de miedo. 44 minutos, penal para los chilenos, FLORES, cruzado y gol. Un resultado que marca otra derrota, pero en realidad un resultado para que el tecnico JOE DEGUARA, no duerma ni una sola noche. ASI NO SE PUEDE PERDER. Destacamos, a VALENZUELA, JARA, CEPINICH, y ANDERSON, deseamos pronta recuperacion a CHICHO LOPEZ, CARDONE y esperamos la vuelta de el "COMPADRE" ANDRADE.

PROXIMA FECHA: Visitantes frente al SOUTH YARRA-En el hermoso parque de TOORAK RD. frente al ALFRED HOSPITAL (Como rojal Rd.). Cerca de la gran barra Chilena de South Yarra LOS MOROCHOS NECESITAN A SUS HINCHAS. HOY MAS QUE NUNCA..

PROXIMA FECHA- Domingo 22 de junio, 9 fecha de la primera rueda. Tres partidos muy interesantes, en primera divi sion, LOS GAUCHOS del West Melbourne, viajan a ALTONA para enfrentar a un rival al que vencerian dos veces, este campeonato es la primera vez que se enfrentan, las veces anteriores fue por la DISTRICT CUP. EL WEST MELBOURNE, necesita estos dos puntos para seguir en carrera.

PRIMULA RESERVE- PRIMULA AVE. NORTH ALTONA. NO FALTE....
Para LOS CHARRUAS, como locatarios tienen otra oportunidad para acercarse a algo que no es un sueno, sino una gran posibilidad. GANAR EL CAMPEONATO. Reciben en casa en el campo de KENSINGTON, al MALVERN CITY que va segundo, perdio un solo partido y tiene 30 goles a favor. Ademas todos los de "arriba" juegan entre si, y un triunfo, pondria a los CHARRUAS, en inmejorable posicion. ES UNA CITA DE HONOR PARA TODOS LOS URUGUAYOS, T-O-D-O-S-, ALENTAR AL EQUIPO, que con valores jovenes sale a "JUGARSE POR LA CELESTE". NO FALTE, COMENTARIO, ACOMPANE A SUS BOTIJAS.....

Para los CHAVALES, despues de este merecido descanso estan a la espera del MOONE PONDS, un rival dificil, durisimo y que sale "comiendose los chicos crudos" por el campeonato. Locales en FLEMINGTON, los dirigidos por GIL-CUBERO, tienen equipo, confianza, y han aparecido varones, si señor, VARONES con fuzga de CAUDILLOS, para guiar el equipo, pensamos que "CANONERO PINAS" se esta perfilando como ese hombre que le hacia falta a los CHAVALES. Junto a GUERRILLERO ORTIZ y si el DP: DEJAVAAAAA, al "GALLEGO" GUIMAREY en el medio, tiene un medio campo DE BANDERA.

Sin duda un partido para no perderse, en FLEMINGTON, se mata la ganaderia del señor D.MOONE PONDS, y seran espadas OCE CHAVALES de ORO. Senores GIL-CUBERO, dejen en el medio PINAS-GUIMAREY-ORTIZ y hay festejo, AUPA CHAVALES...

Two men with a heavy responsibility — "Chico" Hernandez (president) and Joe Degura (coach) of Hotham United.

Two fine players come back home: Jorge Valenzuela and Daniel "Cabecita" Opaço. Valenzuela, from Keilor Austria, and Opaço are both with Hotham United and they promise that Hotham United will go up and up ...
